Independent Consultant Achieves DiSC Certification

Johnston, August 1, 2005 — Barbara Stennes of Johnston, Iowa is among the first independent consultants to earn a Certified DiSC[®] Trainer designation from Inscape Publishing. Inscape's certification program is based on the Everything DiSC[®] Facilitation System. This just-released modular system helps trainers, coaches, and consultants address organizational needs using a broad range of DiSC tools. Stennes achieved Certified DiSC Trainer status by completing extensive coursework on the DiSC behavioral model, applying her knowledge in the market, and successfully completing a rigorous one-on-one practical examination.

"I commend Barbara Stennes's commitment to professional development," remarked Jeffrey Sugerman, president and CEO of Inscape Publishing. "In a confusing, competitive marketplace, Ms. Stennes has set herself apart by earning additional credentials that authenticate her in-depth understanding of DiSC and its applications."
